Dear New Supervisor:

Congratulations on being elected a supervisor to your local conservation district. You are very much needed to give local direction and oversight to district activities. More than ever before, local people who are experienced with and care for our land and water resources are needed to speak up and take initiative.

In this notebook, you will find a New Supervisor Checklist and other materials to help acquaint you with your new responsibilities. This binder can also store your district's agendas, minutes and other useful information. The Utah Conservation Commission (UCC) and the Utah Association of Conservation Districts (UACD) would be happy at any time to assist you with understanding your duties and opportunities.

We are grateful for your willingness to serve and expect that you will be personally satisfied with this work and those with whom you will have the pleasure of working. Please feel free to contact myself or another member of the UACD executive committee or staff for any questions you may have.

Sincerely,
